

everything you.

3 website design & website development services

Here at Lightfin, we believe your website is your face to the online world. A single click of the mouse can make or break a potential sale. Do you know how many visitors are leaving because they can't find what they're looking for because of a broken link? Or how many more can't even see your site because your site doesn't work in their browser.

All crucial questions that you can leave to our website design and website development team. We build sites the right way, adhering to current web standards. Our process allows us to anticipate your changing needs and the needs of your users. At the end of the day you get a website that is accessible, search-engine-friendly and easy to modify later on.

If you are unhappy with your current website, give us a call at 603-610-4237 or fill out our contact form to see how our website design and website development team can take your site to the next level.

4

5 website design services

Your website is one of the first places a potential client goes for information. And today's consumer doesn't have time to waste. So you've got to make a good impression—fast. This starts with strategic design. At Lightfin that means more than pretty colors and fancy Flash intros. It means creating a mood that fits your brand and welcomes users. Our website designers take the time to learn about your goals and brand—where you are and where you'd like to be—as well as your target audience and put this to work for you with design solutions that are on brand, on budget and on time.

Listed below you will find a collection of our past website design projects. We understand that we can't show you everything but hope to at least provide some insight into the quality and nature of the work we do here. If you would like to see more, visit our website design portfolio page or click MITX 2010 and MITX 2007 to see which website design projects have earned us top recognition in the online industry.

7

8

9 website development services

Website design and website development are constantly used interchangeably in the media and advertisements. But, the two phrases actually mean to different things. Put simply, website design provides the framework for the look and feel of a web page, and website development provides the "back end" functionality and usability of a website.

10

At Lightfin, our website designers and developers work together to assure that each website we produce meets and exceeds our client's expectations. If you would like to see what our past clients have said about us and our work, click here.